and Robert Murphy were brought before Judge Myers and tried on a charge of disturbing religious worship at Salem church on Sunday, July 31st, some account of which was given in the Jour-NAL a few days afterwards. The trial lasted all day, many people and witnessés were in attendance and the case awakened much interest. County Attorney Q. C. Godbey and M. E. Tarter prosecuted and George E. and J. Boyle Stone defended. The "rule" was applied to the witnesses and there were some material conflicts in the evidence. It would be tedious to detail all of the points and do exact justice to all parties. and therefore we will not attempt it. It appears that one Wesley Barton was arrested in the morning by a magistrate present and put under guard, charged services Uncle Joe went to Barton and called him to go with him and get his dinner, and he could then go home. Barton started with him and the guard followed, when a contest came up over the possession of the prisoner, causing the meeting to be broken up. Uncle Joe in his statement before the court, and it was corroborated by witnesses for the defense, said when he called for Barton to go with him, that he was under the impression that Barton was released from arrest on the promise of another magistrate present, who claimed to have the power to do so, on condition that the prisoner would leave and sell no more whisky at church. Mr. Napier claimed that he was followed by the guard, and unexpectedly assaulted, and his own actions were in repelling the assault. Though the Commonwealth differed in some essentials, it was made manifest that there were some technical irregularities in the arrest and tho' the meeting was broken up, it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to determine ance, therefore I suppose the jury gave the benefit of the doubt to the accused, and it returned a verdict of not guilty.

The nomination of Judge Saufley, recently made in our democratic primaries by such a decided majority, is conclusive that he was the choice of the democrats of the entire district and therefore should be accepted and supported most heartily as the accredited representative of our party. He is not only entitled to this support by reason of this fact, but also on his own account, as he is honest, capable and faithful and will make the district a model judge. We urge, therefore that an organization be perfected at once that will insure his election. It will not do to trust to the fact that in the past the four counties composing the district have returned a very handsome aggregate democratic majority, for the approaching election will be held by a new and untried method in our State, and it may develop some surprises for us. It certainly is the part of wisdom to be on the alert, and our committees should arrange at once for an active precinct canyass, a very thorough organization and the education of the voter in the new method of voting.-Lancaster Record-Homestead.

A crippled negro, Anderson Dunlap, who was selling for Turner, was the principal witness against him. Most of the fines were suspended, provided Turner would change his ways and sin no more. Turner swore vengeance on the negro, and while in town one night last week, fired several shots at him. A warrant was sworn out, but he had left town. Thursday afternoon Marshal Jennings learned that Turner was in town and on the no torious Battle Row. He went down after him, but Turner jumped on his horse and as Jennings' revolver refused to work, made good his escape. #### The Williamsburg Fair.

The I. J. man, who generally takes in everything of importance in these "deestricts," attended the Williamsburg Fair Friday and as usual on such occasions, spent the day pleasantly, mingling with the masses, trying to enlarge the subscription list of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and getting in a few ducats, so as to "keep the ark a-moving." Money isn't as plentiful in these days as in those of yore, but still it is some pleasure to try to get it when you are mixed with such clever people as those of old Whitley. Nine long years ago (and they do seem long to a youth of my years) I came to Whitley's capital and worked a day or so. I neither knew nor was known in those palmier days, but notwithstanding I did a good business and returned home with money in my pockets and anjundying love in my heart for this people. Like the beast which is well treated, I returned, and have continued to do so again and again, and each time I have been treated not only most courteously, but well financially.

I started out to write about the fair, but I see I have left the subject. Well, Friday was kind of an off day, but a good crowd was on hand. The show of stock was good, but the trots were very races were on the programme and were poorly contested. The fat man's race did not come off and I suppose the bicycle race was forgotten. STANFORD, KY., SEPTEMBER 6, 1892

W. P. WALTON.

THE average writer thinks he is not doing his duty unless he abreviates half the words of his contributions to the press. This is quite annoying to the editor, who has to go over it all and make a blue mark around the contracted words to remind the printer to spell them out, or write them himself in full, if the contractions are obscure. It

ONE of the greatest democratic demonstrations ever seen in Kentucky was at Herndon Friday, when the people of his native land put the big pot into the little one to welcome Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, who seems destined to pre-6,000 people were present and the welcome was most enthusiastic. Mr. Stevenson's speech was chiefly devoted to the tariff. He put the democratic platform in a nut-shell when he said, "We are first for an economically administered government, a tariff for revenue only and against that menace to a free people, the infamous force bill."

Gov. Brown seems to be quite handy with his pardon machine. He has released 86 convicts in less than a year, during the four years of his administration. Governors may have better facilities for obtaining evidence than juries and may have more knowledge of law than the judges, but we rather doubt both propositions. It is the hardest of hard matters to convict the average lawbreaker and when occasionally he does get justice, it is not reassuring to the law abiding public to have the governor the championship of the world at New until having undergone a quarantine of turn them out to go and sin again.

ever used it in time ever had the cholera. It is also said to be an excellent remedy for ordinary summer complaints. The formula is as follows: Equal parts of tincture of ceyenne pepper, tincture of opium, tincture of rhubarb, essence of peppermint and spirits of camphor. Mix well. Dose 15 to 30 drops in a little cold water, according to age and violence of symptoms, repeated every 15 or 20 minutes until relief is obtained.

THE Woodford Sun describes Col. Bennett H. Young flying up the Louisville Southern writing editorials for the Post and entertaining a pretty girl, both at the same time. The versatile colonel may be forced to the necessity of writing under such circumstances, but we rather incline to the opinion that most, if not all of the editorials of his excellent paper are evolved from the think-tanks of Will Finley and Charley Price, who can give a majority of writers two in the game and then beat them.

EDITOR EMERSON, of the Russellville Ledger, rises to remark in language not so plain to the average layman, as follows: "The languorousness of the summer day is dead; the subtle suggestiveness of the silent summer night is a sweet memory only-old Bethel and old Logan throw open their portals to-morrow and the boys and girls will be called to books. TO W. P. W.

JOURNAL, and taken from the scrap-book of his deceased wife by the editor of that paper. The thought so vividly presented here must some day occupy the mind of every devoted husband and wife, and to them as well as to him to whom it is more especially presented, this poem is earnestly commended:

The day will dawn when one of us will hearken In vain to hear a voice that has grown dumb, And morns will fade, noons pale and shadows darken,

While sad eyes watch for feet that never come one of us two must sometime face existence Alone with the memories that but sharpen pain; And these sweet days shall shine back in the dis-

Like dreams of summer dawns, in nights of rain. One of us two, with tortured heart half broken, Shall read long-treasured letters through salt

Shall kiss with anguish lips each cherished token, That speaks of these love-crowned delicious years.

One of us two shall find all light, all beauty, All joy on earth, a tale forever done; shall know henceforth that life means only duty-

Oh. God! Oh, God! have pity on that one! The above, which is reproduced from the Richmond Register is sincerely appreciated. The kind friend who inserted it has passed through the dark valley in the shadow of the death of a beloved wife, and knows as no other person, who has not similarly suffered, can, the allabsorbing, all-pervading and overpowering weight of grief and dreary desolation that consumes almost the very vitals. A good wife is God's best gift to tals. A good wife is God's best gift to man and the loss of such an one is the severest trial any one can undergo.

I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the very best B ue-Grass Lands in Lincoln county. These Farms are all well improved and good rich lands, running in size from 5 to 50 to Acres. Considering their locality, their richness and fertility of soil, the convenience of turnpikes and rail-roads that bring markets right to our door, they are cheaper than the Lands of any other county, in the State. There is scarcely a Farm in the county over 5 miles from a decot.

The county is checked with turnpikes running inevery direction. There is not a public road entering the county seat that is not Macadamized. We have the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. dividing the county from East to West and the C. S. R. R. from North to South; the K. C. R. R. from this place to Cincinnati, crossing the C. & O. at Winchester, giving full access to the markets of the whole world. Besides, we have three large Flour Mills in the county that give us a market for all our grain right at home; and the development of the mountain regions of Fosters and I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the let Sonth by railroads has created such a demand for all kinds of cereals and provender that wecan scarcely retain enough for homeconsumption.

The people are prosperous, generous and kind, believing in Christianity and education. There is not a neighborhood in the county but has a good church and school-house.

Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln, is a prosperous little city of about 2,500 inhabitants and is the great doorway from the North and Northeast South and from the Northwest to Southeast, and standing as it does gazing right into the bosom of the undeveloped mountains of Southeastern Kentucky backed up by the whole Blue-Grass region of the State with railroads running through it to all points of the compass, makes it naturally one of the best located towns in the South for mannfactures and other enterprises of magnitude. mannfactures and other enterprises of magnitude. Water Works are now being agitated and right about the town about three-fourths of a mile there could be erected Water Works with very aboue the town about; three-fourths of a mile there could be erected Water Works with very little cost that would supply a city of 150,000 inhabitants with the purest and best water in the world. Our little city has been newly rebuilt in the last few years and its business houses and residences will compare with larger cities of greater pretensions. Our merchants and tradesmen are all prosperous and doing well. We have two banks with a capital stock of $400,000 that are prosperous and in a good condition.

We have splezedid schools. We have a Fethale College, a large brick building, with over 100 pupils in attendance and under the principalship of Prof. J. M. Hubbard, is in a flourishing condition. We also have a Seminary that is a good school, with Prof. B. F. Blakeman at its head. We have one of the best Public School buildings in this section of the State, with over 100 pupils in attendance, and with other good private schools, you see our school facilities are excellent.

We have elegant church builnings, representing every denomination, with a full corps of ministers of fias -class talent and are doing a better business than any class of men in the city.

I have tried to make this statement as facts, without any exaggeration or coloring, as those who know will bear ne out, and those who wish to buy pleasant homes at fair prices and locate among a good people with all the best surroundings, would do well to call and see me before purhasing clsewhere

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock ..... $200,000 Attention of the public is invited to the fac that this is the only National Bank in Stanford Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' hability for an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $400,000. Five sworn statements of the condition of the bank are made each year to the United States government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus securing additiona and perfect safety to depositors.

This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then re-organized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1865 and again re-organized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1882, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 32 years.
